Congratulations on winning a Good Design Award 2018. Once again this year, we appreciate all the wonderful examples of design submitted to the program.

As usual, we will be reaching many people this year through the Good Design Exhibition as we showcase this year’s rigorously screened winning design and introduce what makes it significant.

Good Design Exhibition 2018 is Japan’s foremost design event, where all newly awarded designs will be shown and introduced. The vibrant exhibition, this year held at areas around Tokyo Midtown, invites visitors to discover fresh Good Design Award winners. We ask that award winners, through your own publicity, join us in promoting the award-winning designs.

A special exhibition of commendable, visionary designs will be held for the Good Design Best100. Winners of Grand, Gold, and Focus awards will be announced on the first day (October 31), as this design is unveiled at the exhibition. Other highlights will include a “superior companies” exhibition by those that won the most awards and an exhibition for winners originally from partner programs in other countries. Special stage events will feature talks and seminars on contemporary design by jury members and award-winning designers. Once again, some of the fresh designs will also be available for purchase at the pop-up Good Design Store by Nohara.

On the first day of the exhibition, everyone’s achievement will be celebrated at the award ceremony, and the Grand Award winner will be decided. Winners of other awards are encouraged to cast your vote, as you, jury members, and visitors determine this year’s Grand Award winner. We welcome all who were involved in your winning entry.

(Food Sanitation Law)
It is important to understand all kinds of exhibits are being controlled by this law except for booth or decoration materials. In order to distribute a commodity and/or get the guests tasting at the fair ground, it is obliged for an exhibitor to submit "Food Import Notification" to Ministry of Health, Labor and Welfare (MHLW). However, it is not sure that MHLW’s local office (quarantine office at airport) shall release a permit without actual examination by cargo-sampling. Basically quarantine office can freely release or put examination order to any importers. In case of examination order, it takes at least 7-10 days for analyzing the sample even in the shortest case. It depends on kinds of import items in that how many days are to be required of sample examination. In this connection, if a product may not be able to get MHLW’s approval for importation on safety standard, and exhibitor can still get a provisional import approval from MHLW limitedly on condition that they shall submit to MHLW "Declaration letter" that the product is for display only, not for tasting nor free distribution and shall be disposed or to be re-exported out of Japan after the exhibition.
In case that you have an agent in Japan, it is advised that you should consult with the agent on how to deal with the exhibit for Good Design AWARD 2017. Whichever Formal Food Application or declaration for provisional import to governmental sector on the exhibit, a resident party in Japan as importer shall be obliged to do it under its name and responsibility. However, in case that an exhibitor has no agent in Japan, we can ask the exhibition secretariat to do it on their behalf. In this case, we will be able to liaison an exhibitor to the exhibition secretariat.

(Pharmaceutical Affair’s Law) Goods, which are subjected to the Pharmaceutical Affair’s Law in Japan, that is medical instruments, perfumery, Cosmetics or toilet preparations, Soap, Oral Dental Preparation and the like, are Health, Labor and Welfare (MHLW).
